Dear Parents and Carers

This morning's media appears to have complete information from the Department of Education regarding the awarding of examination grades for students this summer.

At the time of writing (07:30) neither the Department for Education's website nor Ofqual's website has further detail regarding this and schools have not been informed of these arrangements.

No doubt, this detail will be formally released later today and I will write to you today or tomorrow to update you further.

In the meantime, please be assured that, as ever, our assessment and moderation processes will be robust and fair, adhering to the guidance we are provided by the DfE, Ofqual and examination boards.

Yours sincerely

Mr P. Hemmings
Headteacher
